WILLIAM C. LAWS PASSES AWAY

Death the Result of Exposure on the Morning of
Feb. 15.

William C. Laws of Newington, who had both hands and feet frozen early Sunday morning, February 15, while on his way home from this city, died at his home this morning shortly before 7 o'clock. At the time of the accident it was thought that the shock would prove fatal as Mr. Laws was a man well advanced in years. He was apparently improving, up to Thursday, when he relapsed into a semi-consciousness, and steadily failed. He is survived by a wife and one daughter. He was a member of Damon Lodge, No. 2, Knights of Pythias.

WOULD TAKE OVER WATER WORKS

Many Citizens of York Favor Town
Acquiring Property of the York Shore Water Company--Will be Acted on at Town Meeting

Many residents of York believe that the town should own its water works and a petition to take over the York

Shore Water Company will be acted upon at the annual town meeting to be held on Monday, March 8. The petition that has been circulated by Ernest F. Hobson, has already upwards of one hundred signatures. Those who are in favor of taking over the water works cite the fact that the adjacent town of Kittery a few years since acquired their water plant and that the town has received good revenue from the same. The town ownership of water supplies is becoming general in Maine, as well as in other states and the following dispatch from Farmington, Me., is of general interest to the people of York who favor the taking over of the water works. It is as follows:

The old saying that there is nothing sure in this world but death, and taxes does not apply fully in Farmington, for at the annual meeting of the village corporation held here recently it was reported that the income from the municipal water system pays the entire expenses of running the village, so that no taxes are assessed. Farmington citizens are considering an extension of the present water system, and an adjourned town meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 17, for the purpose of discussing that question.

It is said that Josiah Chase, who owns the York Shore Water Company will vigorously oppose the taking over of the water plant by the town.

WILL NOT LAND ARMED FORCE

President Wilson Says that Such a Move on the Part of the United States Would be Act of War and Repeats that His Policy is Unchanged

Washington, February 26.—President Wilson took the position today that for the United States to send marines, or armed forces of any kind into Mexico without the consent of the governing authorities there, would be an act of war.

He declared emphatically that permission to send such forces never had been sought of either General Huerta or General Carranza, and indicated plainly that no request of that character would be made in the near future.

The President also announced again that no change in the policy of the American government toward Mexico had been decided upon.

The President had been asked particularly about reports that American troops might be sent across the border to recover the body of William Blanton, the British subject, recently executed at Jauquez and concerning public dispatches that the United States contemplated to guard the American embassy.

One press dispatch saying that General Huerta himself had stated today that he had refused permission to the U. S. to send 2000 marines to Mexico City was shown to President Wilson, who

SUING FOR HALF THE PROPERTY

Case of Former Portsmouth Woman in the Baltimore Court--Claim Made on Deed 25 Years Ago

The suit of Alice Gerry Stewart, against her former husband, David Stewart, opens on Monday in Baltimore where Mrs. Stewart will be defended by Col. John H. Bartlett of this city. The case is attracting no small amount of interest in this city, from the fact that Mrs. Stewart is the granddaughter of the late Richard Jenness, and for years resided on Pleasant street in the building now known as the Elks Home. She is establishing a claim to half of the property sold to be valued at a half million. Her claim is on a deed made 25 years ago, or shortly after she obtained her divorce in France.

She expects to attend the meetings of the National Educational Association.

PLANS READY FOR ARMORY

Gov. Felker Informs Mayor
Yeaton Work Will Be Commenced at Early Date.

Mayor Harry B. Yeaton has sent Fred M. Sise, clerk of the Board of Trade, a letter in which he states he has received assurances from Governor Samuel D. Felker that the plans and specifications for the new state armory in this city were all completed and that work would commence when weather conditions would allow.

This would seem to indicate that the city of Portsmouth was to have an armory, notwithstanding the fact that several well known persons have of late lost a great amount of sleep in their anxiety over the fate of the new armory.

The city some time ago secured a site for the armory off Court street and the deed was forwarded to the state.

PLAYED BALL BEFORE KING GEORGE

London, Feb. 26.—Three hearty American cheers and a tiger was the welcome given by the baseball team to King George on his arrival today on the Chelsea football grounds to witness the game between the New York team, representing the National League, and the Chicago team, representing the American League.

The players were grouped immediately in front of the royal box and the rattle of the hurrahs evidently immensely pleased the royal sportsman who repeatedly bowed his acknowledging ment.

The King was accompanied by Walter H. Page, United States Ambassador, and a full staff of the American embassy, as well as a large suite of court officials.

The Ambassador introduced Charles A. Comiskey, Joseph Farrell and James J. Callahan, with all of whom the King shook hands.

The members of the American colony made a holiday for the occasion and were present in great force among the 5000 or 6000 spectators.

All branches of British sports were largely represented. Many of the leading cricket and football players were on the ground taking keen notice of all the points of the game.

The Earl of Lonsdale and Baron Desborough, both of whom are prominent in sporting circles, were among the many titled personages surrounding the King.

The White Sox won the game, beating the Giants, 5 to 4.

LORD DESBOROUGH'S VIEW

He Praised Baseball at Banquet to Tourists and Spoke Glowingly of Relations With America.

London, Feb. 26.—Lord Desborough was the chief speaker at the luncheon given yesterday by prominent Americans in honor of the White Sox-Giant baseball players. In response to the toast, "The King," proposed by the United States Consul General, John L. Griffith, Lord Desborough spoke glowingly of the athletic relations of England and America. He advanced the opinion that the white races of the earth have demonstrated their superiority in every athletic enterprise and he praised baseball as an invigorating health building and morally clean game.

Harry Gordon Selfridge talked on baseball, Chicago "and the good old United States," and he confessed that he has looked for a game of "base ball" ever since he entered the business field in London. He also suggested that baseball would soon take root in the British Isles and that it would not be many years until it would be necessary to erect the Atlantic to get the World's championship.

James J. Callahan, manager of the White Sox, returned from Ireland in time to attend the luncheon and to present the trophies of McGraw and Comiskey, which he had won of his miniature stories and made a decided "hit." The absence of McGraw and Comiskey was a disappointment to the hosts and guests.

The world tour of the White Sox, on up considerably since arriving at the Royal Hotel, as the Americans here have so many places for them to attend. Mr. and Mrs. James Thorpe are receiving most of the attention.

In his place Hendrich Bruhn, the German light heavy weight who put up such a great exhibition with Burns some weeks ago, has been secured. He was very anxious to get a return match with Burns and a hard battle should be looked for.

DEMAND STATE BE REPRESENTED

Governor and Council Pass Resolution on New Haven Separation.

Concord, Feb. 26.—A resolution was adopted at the meeting of Governor Samuel Parker and council this afternoon demanding that the State of New Hampshire have a representation of the board of trustees he appointed to bring about the dissolution of the Boston & Maine and the New Haven railroads.

It says: "Whereas the State of New Hampshire is vitally interested in the Boston & Maine railroad and its leased lines, and

"Whereas the traveling public is concerned with the service rendered by the railroad and a very large number of stockholders are residents of New Hampshire; and

"Whereas, more miles of railroad are operated by the Boston & Maine management within the State of New Hampshire than in any other state; therefore,

"Be it resolved by the Governor and council of the State of New Hampshire, that said state should be given adequate representation upon any board of trustees which may be appointed to control the Boston and Maine railroad owned by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad."

The following nominations were made before adjournment: Ira S. Phelps, Justice of the Peace district police court; J. Ray Parker of Stewartstown, special Justice of the Peace district police court.

A part of the time this morning was devoted to hearing of parties from Temple, who ask that the route of the Southside highway be through Temple village. The route was established at the last meeting over the Temple mountain. A meeting is to be held on March 12.

HAVE AGREED ON EVERYTHING EXCEPT DURATION OF TRUSTEES

Washington, Feb. 26.—After weeks of work on the part of railroad officials and attorneys of the Department of Justice, the plan for the separation of the Boston and Maine and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroads was laid today before Atty. Gen. McKeen.

Until today the Attorney General had taken no active part in the framing of the segregation agreement, but confided the department's policy to T. W. Gregory and Jesse C. Adkins, assistants in the case. They conferred with Howard Elliott, chairman of the New Haven board, and counsel for the road.

The two department lawyers hoped to receive Mr. McKeen's approval of five trustees and of the details of a separation which will put the Boston and Maine out of the hands of the New Haven. It was generally agreed today that the number of trustees should be five, but the two sides were unable to get together before the conference with the Atty.

General about their length of service.

The trustees will be charged with the disposition of the Boston and Maine stock now owned by the New Haven and through the control of which they will conduct the affairs of the Maine road. New Haven officials were anxious that the trustees should be given as long a time as possible in which to get rid of this stock without loss to the railroad, but department attorneys hold the trusteeship period should be comparatively short.

FOREST NOTES

The state of New York has just published a comprehensive report of its wood-using industries.

Canada has a society of forest engineers. Dr. H. E. Fernow, of Toronto, is president, and Mr. F. W. H. Jacobson, of Ottawa, is secretary.

Of the three Pacific coast states, Oregon and Washington far outstrip

California in the work done by private owners for forest protection. The development of quicksilver mines promises to make large demand for cordwood and construction timbers on the Tonto national forest, Arizona.

Manufacturers of greenhouses and makers of boxes are getting in touch so that the latter may use for box cleats the cypress waste from the greenhouses.

Lodgepole pine seed sown broadcast on the snow in southern Idaho last spring germinated when the snow melted, and as many as 60 little trees were counted to the square foot. The summer was so dry, however, that most of the plants died, except where sheltered by brush or logs.

TWO HUNDRED RESPOND TO ROLL CALL

Osgood Lodge, I. O. O. F., Have Largest Meeting For Years--Old Members Take Part--Banquet.

One of the largest attended and most successful roll calls in the long history of the Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., was held on Thursday evening. It was a remarkable enthusiasm for the meeting and none found more pleasure than the old members, who turned out in large numbers.

There were over two hundred members who answered to their name, in person and many of the older members delighted the younger element with their amusing reminiscences of the early days of the lodge. In addition there were many responses by letter, one coming from Mr. Charles Clark of Brussels, Belgium, who sent his greetings to the lodge.

Many of the members who are living in other places came back for this occasion and they were present from Haverhill, Lynn, Dover and other places.

In the course of the evening the younger element of the lodge were heartily congratulated on their fine work in keeping up the lodge, so that today it is one of the largest and most prosperous lodges in the entire state.

The new Osgood Lodge quartette rendered several pleasing selections. Two applications were received and two referred to the business meeting.

Following the work adjournment was taken in the banquet hall where supper was served. The menu was: Cold Ham, Cold Turkey, Hot Mashed Potatoes, Escalloped Oysters, Rolls and Olives, Ice Cream, Cake, Coffee, Cigars.

The committee who successfully handled the entire affair was: Noble Grand, George E. Cox; Vice Grand, Harry W. Vennard; Recording Secretary, Charles H. Kehoe; Past Grand, Josiah M. Varrell; Isaac M. Schuman; William G. Drew; William F. Thion; Walter Mason and Messrs. Percy D. Hersey, Edward H. Riley and Frank Willard.

QUAKE SHOCK RECORDED

Lasted 17 Minutes, is Report of Rev. Fr. Odenbach, S. J., of St. Ignace School at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Feb. 26.—The observatory at St. Ignace School here recorded an earthquake shock last night. Rev. Fr. Fred Odenbach, S. J., who is in charge of the seismographic instruments, said today that the tremors began at 11:08 p. m., and continued until 11:25 p. m., reaching their maximum at 11:16 p. m. He says they were not severe but appeared to be not far distant.

PAPAL COINS.

The first pope to issue coins was Adrian I, who ascended the papal throne in 771. The coins of Europe were then largely modeled on those of the Byzantine Empire, whose gold byzants were in general use. The coin of Pope Adrian was of this class, says the Catholic Record of London, Ont. It showed a full face portrait, presumably of St. Peter, on the obverse, surrounded by the inscription: "Hadrianus P. P." and the cross on the reverse, very much after the style of the Byzantine pieces.

Many of the earlier papal coins bear the inscription of the reigning pope, and a representation of either St. Peter or St. Paul. It was not until later that the portrait of the reigning pope became a characteristic of these coins.

A gold scudo of Julius II may here be mentioned, the design of which is credited to Francis a celebrated metal worker of the time, which shows a finely engraved portrait of the pope with the inscription: "Julius Pontifex Maximus."

A coin of Alexander VI attributed to Paolo, has on the reverse the crossed keys and crown. This is said to be the first papal coin to bear this device.

The greatest value of the series of papal coins and medals is that it forms a metallic history of the popes since the eighth century and contains the only authentic portraits in existence of many of them.

They have of course a special interest for the numismatists but like everything pertaining to the Holy See have a still deeper and wider interest.

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good Delays Are Dangerous. You Risk No Money

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly to a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-going, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ill and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. "We'll ask you no questions." You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Complaint Seems Well Based.

Some of the railroads are complaining that the government is subjecting them to an injustice by requiring them to carry the mails at the old rate of pay after the work has been greatly increased by the introduction and development of the parcel post. The president of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad has notified the postmaster general that this road and others with which he is connected will refuse to carry the mails unless the question of pay is adjusted on a satisfactory basis, and there are other roads which feel the same way, though they have not stated their cases so strongly.

That the parcel post has greatly increased the bulk and weight of the mails everybody knows, and unless the railroads have been overpaid by the government for their services in the past, it would seem that they are entitled to some increase in view of the additional work they are called upon to do under present conditions.

According to a dispatch from Washington, there is no law compelling railroads to carry the mails, but the postmaster general has recommended the passage of an act subjecting them to a fine of $5,000 a day for refusing to perform this service. That would doubtless be effective, but would it be just?

No legislation should be necessary in the adjustment of this difference, at least until everything in the way of fair dealing has been tried. It is purely a business proposition, and with both sides disposed to be fair there should be no trouble in coming to a satisfactory agreement on a purely business basis.

The mails must be carried and it is the business of the railroads to carry them. They should be willing, and undoubtedly are willing, to carry them at reasonable rates, and the government is able, and should be willing, to compensate them fairly. Whatever its legal rights and powers may be, it has no moral right to compel service by the railroads without adequate compensation. To do otherwise would be an act of confiscation, and it is not to be believed that the United States is ready to take this step, as unnecessary as it would be unjust.

It is not to be expected that any railroad will go so far as to refuse to carry mail under any circumstances, and that the government will grant them a fair deal if it is reasonable to assume. Any other course would lack the support of public opinion, without which even the federal government would be impotent.

It is hoped that with the great experience and prestige of Senator Gallinger and with the democratic influence of Senator Hollis the Portsmouth navy yard may get its fair share this year when the naval bill reaches the Senate. Our senators may well demand that building ways be provided in this year's bill. There is no reason why the bill for a new dock, introduced by the senior senator, should not become a law. It will if both senators, with Maine, join hands. It is only giving Portsmouth what belongs to her—the replacing of dry dock No. 1, which was destroyed through incompetence. Restore dry dock No. 1 to service by passing the Gallinger bill. This is the time to make the fight—not next year. And Secretary Daniels should make good his promise to help Portsmouth.

It is announced that William Sulzer, the deposed governor of New York, has instituted legal proceedings to test the validity of his impeachment. This raises it to the status of an important murder case and when the end will be no man can tell, but it will probably terminate a long time before Mr. Sulzer is again governor of the Empire State.

When the young people of a New England city were compelled by the police to strip the hall of its cornstalk decorations before entering upon the enjoyment of a "Rube" ball, because of the inflammability of the decorations, they felt more like "Rubes" than at any other time since the inception of the "function."

The proposal to make former President Taft, a Unitarian, the head of Lafayette college, a Presbyterian institution, shows how fast liberality in religious views is spreading in this country. But it is a question whether it has spread fast enough and far enough to make room for such a step as this.

A movement is on foot to regulate the sale of bichloride of mercury, the use of which in mistake for medicine has cost many lives. It is a danger against which sensible people should be able to protect themselves, but failure to do this is so general that it may be time for the law to step in.

Secretary Redfield is a generous sharer of the president's optimism and sees marked improvement in industrial and commercial conditions. It is a good way to feel, and without doubt there is some basis for the cheerful view taken by Mr. Redfield.

Now for a temporary lessening of social activities. In view of the pace traveled in the present age, the rest season afforded by Lent is none too long.

General Felix Diaz In America On Important but Secret Mission.

With the arrival of General Felix Diaz in the United States interest was attached to his movements. The nephew of the former dictator of Mexico landed in New York just a year after the ten day battle in Mexico City which he led against President Madero and which resulted in Madero's overthrow and the sudden launching of the Llerena regime. It was reported that Diaz was in America to strengthen his finances until such time as it was safe for him to return to his native land. He kept his motive secret. He is shown in the picture on the left with his secretary.

BRIDGE PROJECT MEETS APPROVAL

Correspondent Says Subject
Should Surely Be Probed.

Editor Daily Herald:

Dear Sir—We have seen and read with the deepest of interest, and an astonishment approaching wonder, the picture and description of a most novel bridge, apparently actually spanning the Piscataqua from near the centre of our city to Badgers Island.

From what we have learned of the picture-taking art, surely, the Herald cut could have been produced originally only from a photograph, and how this could be taken with no such structure over our river, or even, as asserted in the description, within our "Western Hemisphere," is beyond us to conceive.

That the structure itself is new to the world is verified by the fact that we have examined every cut and description of bridge, from a few hundred years before the Christian era down to the present century, and nothing approaching the Herald cut and description can be found within their folds.

Surely, neither our states of Maine and New Hampshire, or our counties of York and Rockingham, and still less the City of Portsmouth and the town of Kittery have any need whatever of a bridge for steam transportation, but we do have great and pressing desire for all other means of quick, free and direct passage over our river, and so far as it is possible yet to foresee, the Herald's suggestion seems to meet at the very least possible cost, every objection hitherto possible to raise against the bridging of our river at Portsmouth.

The hitherto admitted unsurmountable difficulties of bridging the Piscataqua so near the ocean seems to have been literally thrown into the discard by this new and novel structure. It can be constructed just where it can be most useful and most needed. The National Government could offer no objection on the score of navigation obstruction; and inasmuch as it would supply, as it appears, every want and need of an electric railroad, who could so well afford to bear a large portion of the expense, as well as every demand made by the public of two counties, it might not be time wasted to give this apparent valuable project a little of our time and thought, in the form of an exhaustive enquiry.

It found as novel and new, and as efficacious and economical in cost and maintenance as claimed, and as we confess appears, the subject matter, as well as the means, should surely be probed.

The Herald surely owes its many readers and our whole interested public more information and further details upon the subject matter now, more than ever in the public mind.

WILL NOT LAND ARMED FORCE

It was absolutely untrue that any such request had been made. He added that neither Charge O'Shaughnessy nor anyone else had been authorized to discuss with the Huerta government the landing of American marines in Mexico.

Administration officials expressed the opinion that General Huerta probably inspired the statement about the American marines at this time merely for effect upon the Mexican people, whom he hoped to impress with his sympathy to the American government, as it is well known that permission to land marines for legation guards has been freely accorded by Huerta to other nations including Great Britain and Germany.

The President explained to inquirers that the talk of sending marines

CURRENT OPINION

Butterfly Type of Girl of Today Natural Product of This Money Grabbing Age.

The present feminist movement has given us a rebellious generation of young girls, and in this modern type, which has thus been evolved, there are two distinct divisions. I should call them the busy bee type and the butterfly type. The former rebels because it wants greater responsibilities; the latter revolts because it wants no responsibilities at all.

The first is the type of girl called out by the highest qualities in the feminist movement. She is seeking greater freedom in life and in outlook because she is dissatisfied with being simply a parasite.

The butterfly type, which is more advertised, is physically more alluring. This girl is the child of luxury and excitement, quick to take from every other woman a trick of glance or gesture, an enticing line of dress, a subtlety of attack or an attracting defense. There lurks a certain mystery in her smile, a challenge in her eyes. No longer does she look away, but directly at a man, yet she manages to convey a provoking idea of resistance.

Perhaps the most noticeable characteristic she has acquired in her pursuit of pleasing is her smile, which is half self satisfaction and half an alert, amused audacity.

Frankly, I think this type is a dangerous one, especially if it is idealized in the manner of certain popular writers of fiction who seek only to flatter her vanity. More politic it is, seemingly, to flatter the young lady. But what she needs is to be told the truth bluntly and even brutally.

It is not that I blame her so much as her antecedents and the conditions that surround her. She is the natural product of the money grabbing type of man and the woman who is a social climber.—Owen Johnson, Author.

to Mexico had never got beyond the stages of mere discussion among administration officials. He said that when Great Britain and Germany sent marines to Mexico City to guard their legations though the United States was appraised in advance of the step and offered no objections there was a natural disposition here to determine whether the American government should take similar action.

Mexico City Quiet

His information he added, was that Mexico City was quiet and that there was no danger to foreigners and when Charge O'Shaughnessy and Rear Admiral Fletcher were asked for their opinions about an embassy guard both advised that such a step was not necessary.

It was clearly realized by the administration here at the time the discussion began, that to ask Huerta for the position to land marines would involve a recognition of that government.

In discussing the subject of sending armed forces into Mexico the President showed familiarity with precedents, pointing out that at the time of the Boxer rebellion the Chinese government had virtually invited the allied powers to protect their legations because of its own inability to do so. He referred to the fact that the landing of the American marines in Nicaragua to protect a railroad was done with the permission of the Nicaraguan government.

The President saw no parallel in Mexico, the situation that existed at the time of the Boxer outbreak. When it was suggested to him that President Buchanan in a message to congress had advocated sending troops into northern Mexico to restore peace, Mr. Wilson said he had recently read the message and called attention to the failure of President Buchanan to point out any rule of international law under which armed forces could be sent into any country without the latter's permission unless it was an act of war.

Situation is Unchanged

The President views the general situation in Mexico as far as the progress of the revolution is concerned, as but little changed.

Huerta's resources he thinks have been weakened. He indicated that he had inquired into various reports about American financial aid to Carranza, and was convinced that there was no barter in concessions between Carranza and American financiers. Mr. Wilson thinks Carranza is getting most of his funds by intercession of the President believed was due to difficulties in communicating with Villa, who he supposed, was moving about from place to place.

Incidentally Mr. Wilson disposed on a report that an independent republic was being planned for northern Mexico. He said he had information from men who knew Carranza's mind and the purpose of the constitution-makers generally that the idea of a partition of Mexico had been absolutely rejected and disavowed by them, and that their main aim in the revolution was to redeem Mexico from the stain which had been put upon it.

On the Benton episode the President had little information to reveal beyond what has already been published. He said the United States government was slowly finding out the details, that its course in the meantime must necessarily be a patient one. No reply had been received to the request for the surrender of Benton's body, and for information as to where the grave was located, or as to whether a British representative would be permitted by the American consul and an army surgeon when the body was examined for examination. The failure to answer these re-

EIGHTY YEARS OLD TODAY

Railroad Men Extend Greetings to Former Supt. Daniel W. Sanborn.

Daniel W. Sanborn, one of the best known retired railroad men in New England, is eighty years old today, and quietly celebrated the anniversary at his home in Winter Hill, Somerville. During the day he received many callers to extend their greetings. Among the visitors at his home were a party of railroad conductors who presented him with a bouquet of 80 pink.

Mr. Sanborn is a native of Waverfield, N. H., and began his first railroad work as a brakeman on the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth railroad, 116 years ago. He advanced to conductor and later to the position of Superintendent of the Eastern railroad which took over the P. & S. & P. When the Boston & Maine annexed the Eastern he was put in charge of the Eastern division. His next move was to the Southern division where he remained for a short time before being appointed general superintendent of the Boston & Maine.

He retired about four years ago and was succeeded by C. H. Lee. Mr. Sanborn has since his retirement kept in touch with the railroad and makes frequent trips to this city and other places along the line. He has the agility of a man twenty years his junior, and enjoys meeting as often as possible the men who were associated with him so many years. His son, F. E. Sanborn is at present the superintendent of the Portland division of the Maine Central railroad.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

In a Class by Himself

Editor of The Herald:

I read in The Herald recently a communication signed "Observer" in which the writer objects to the Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen's Association occupying the old armory on Court street, when it is vacated by the First Company, C. A. C. Many of our best citizens and tax payers are in favor of having the veterans located in close proximity to the Central depot station so that they can render timely aid to the permanent men as they have done many things in the past. The opposition to our occupying the armory coming from the source it does seems rather amusing, and I am beginning to think that this would-be-heretic, who never sees anything good in either the ranks of the regular firemen or the veterans is in a class by himself and should devote his spare moments to the uplifting of the department, instead of continually sneaking.

ACTIVE VETERAN.

TRADE FOLLOWS VALUE.

Value does not necessarily mean low prices. It may mean superior or unusual service, or high quality of merchandise. It is on this law that the growing demand for advertised articles is based. By experience many people have come to know that an article put out under a definite name and backed up by advertising is, in a certain sense, a standard of value. It stands for something definite and tangible. It is to be preferred to an article of "unknown ancestry." This very same law is what is prompting so many national advertisers to use the newspapers in preference to any other medium. They give a better standard of value, or, in other words, produce a quicker and more definite sales. For a given cost than would be produced through other channels. Trade follows value as surely as night follows day. For evidence—watch the ever-growing volume of advertising in this newspaper.

PRESIDENT WILSON GIVES THE LIE TO HUERTA

Mexican President Claims He Denied Permission For American Marines to Be Taken to Mexico City--Legation Guard Not Considered.

Mexico City, Feb. 26. Provisional President Huerta today refused permission to the United States Government to send 2000 American marines to Mexico City as a guard for the legation here. This information came direct from Gen. Huerta himself.

Gen. Huerta says he was asked by Washington to agree to the dispatch, in addition to the Americans, of 1000 more men, made up of Germans, English and French. To all of this he returned a negative reply on the ground that there was no need for such precautions.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, refuses either to confirm or deny the information.

Denial by President Wilson.
Washington, Feb. 26.—Word came direct from President Wilson today that the United States had never requested permission to send marines to Mexico City and had not discussed nor taken up the subject in any way with Mexican officials.

NO DECISION WAS REACHED

Washington Administration Has Been Considering the Advisability of a Legation Guard.

Washington, Feb. 26. For several days there has been considerable discussion, in official circles about the sending of a legation guard to Mexico City similar to those sent by Great Britain and Germany, and while it is admitted that the Washington administration had been considering the advisability of such a step, it was positively stated that no decision in the matter had been reached.

It also has been reported here for some time that the Huerta Government was not averse to having foreign countries send legation guards to Mexico City, and that the diplomatic representatives in Mexico City from practically all the Nations had recommended such action.

The United States has each time been advised previously of the intention of other countries to send marines to Mexico City and has offered no objections. Very recently President Wilson told cabinet he saw no occasion to follow the action of other Nations in sending marines to Mexico City. It was stated today that his position was unchanged.

Officials here made it plain that they regarded such an announcement by Huerta as being made for its possible effect on the Provisional President's repeated assurances that foreigners are in no danger.

PRESSURE ON GEN. CARRANZA

Washington Administration is Exerting It—If Benton's Body Isn't Produced He Loses Influence.

Washington, Feb. 26. The American Government is exerting every influence at its disposal to obtain from Gen. Villa the surrender of the body of William S. Benton, the British subject recently executed at Juarez. No reply has been received to the instructions sent to Consul Fletcher yesterday to find Benton's grave, and Secretary Bryan was surprised by news dispatches quoting Villa as saying Benton was buried in Chihuahua City. There have been persistent reports here, too, that the body was cremated.

Sec. Bryan conferred with President Wilson and said nothing new in the situation had developed. Official denial came from the White House on one published report that Rear Admiral Fletcher had recommended the sending of marines to Vera Cruz.

High officials conceded that future development of the American policy toward Mexico hangs largely on the outcome of the inquiry in the Benton case.

Another feature of the situation, which focuses up as of commanding importance is the fact that the Benton incident promises to develop into a test of Carranza's authority and influence as chief of the Constitutional movement. Every sort of pressure it is understood, is being brought to bear on Carranza, both by Americans and Mexicans who have the confidence of Washington officials, with the purpose of impressing upon him the necessity of a clear and convincing explanation of all the circumstances surrounding the death of Benton.

If Carranza cannot obtain that from Villa, it is more than probable that relations with the former will be viewed by officials as of less importance hereafter.

Persons in a position to know the viewpoint of the President and his cabinet officers say the disposition of the Administration is to insist upon the facts of the Benton episode, and possession of the body for medical examination, but that there is nothing yet to indicate a critical stage.

Another published report which attracted attention of officials was to the effect that the American embassy in Mexico City has been equipped with machine guns. The only arms there, it was said, are several rifles, imported just before the street fighting that ended in Madero's downfall.

Cottolene

Because of its purity and high shortening value Cottolene makes foods tender and delicious. It has been a favorite cooking fat for many years.

It "creams up" beautifully when used in mixing pastry. It is a firm fat when cool, but nevertheless is always of just the right consistency to blend evenly with the flour or sugar. You who make cakes, pies, cookies, biscuits and the like know what an advantage this is.

Cottolene is especially excellent for all frying—whether pan frying or deep frying. Foods fried in Cottolene do not absorb grease, neither does Cottolene absorb odors. Using it over and over for frying, you not only find it economical, but you produce food that is wholly digestible and most appetizing.

A prominent physician says of Cottolene: "Cottolene, being essentially a vegetable product, forms the most healthful and nutritious cooking medium known to the food experts and medical profession."—(From an article in the American Housekeeper, entitled "The Most Healthful of All Cooking Fats," by Dr. James Paige Emery.)

Every thoughtful mother and careful housewife will be interested in the valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS. Send for your copy today, also order a pail of Cottolene from your grocer.

COURT MARTIAL FOR NAVAL OFFICER.

Navy Secretary Danes yesterday ordered the trial by court-martial of Lieutenant Commander Charles P. Huff, of the Navy, charged with assaulting J. Philip Klescher in a hotel at Newport News, Va., on Feb. 15. The alleged assault was committed the morning after a "Valentine" party in the hotel, at which the naval officer's said to have objected to Klescher dancing with Mrs. Huff. The officer who said the dance incident did not cause the attack was tried in the police court. He is now charged in naval terms with "maliciously assaulting" and "conducting a scandalous conduct leading to the destruction of good morals." The court-martial probably will be held at the Norfolk navy yard.

CHESTNUT BARK DISEASE GAINS

Ravages Threaten Extinction; Forester Hirst Issues Warning.

The chestnut bark disease is spreading rapidly in New Hampshire. In some localities the chestnut trees should be cut at once to save them from destruction. During the past year the Forestry Commission in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture has made a thorough study of the disease in the chestnut region of the state, and has collected data on where and how chestnut can be marked in the best advantage.

Here are the facts:

1. The chestnut bark disease was discovered in New York City in 1901. It has killed every chestnut tree in that vicinity and threatens to exterminate chestnut in Southern New England soon. It has been in New Hampshire since 1910.

2. The standing chestnut in Southern New Hampshire is worth over $1,000,000.
3. The disease is carried by insects which lodge in wounds or break in the outer bark of chestnut trees. It grows in the inner bark where the wood is forming, finally girdling and killing the tree. It does not damage the wood, but diseased trees the first winter after they are infected.

4. In some parts of New Hampshire conditions are so serious that all merchantable trees should be cut at once to save them from destruction. In other localities, only scattered infections are found, and great damage to surrounding chestnut may be prevented if these are removed.

5. Chestnut is used as poles, for lumber, cooperage, wood fencing and cordwood. About three million feet of lumber is annually used in the state by contractors and builders, planing mills, furniture and other wood-working plants. Practically all chestnut

GOLFERS TO INVADE ENGLAND EARLY

Boston, Massachusetts, February 26. March 31, instead of April 11, will probably be the date on which Francis Oulmet and Arthur G. Lockwood will sail from Boston for Liverpool, to take part in the British golf championships. The change is due to the cancellation of the steamship sailing for which they had planned originally.

The next sailing date from Boston is a bit later in April than they think advisable to go and although March 31 is earlier than the national open championship would like to start, it appears to be the only available date.

Even by starting on the last day of March, they will be nearly three weeks behind Jerome D. Travers, the national amateur champion, who is booked for passage on the White Star liner Baltic from New York March 12. The amateur champion feels that he needs lots of time for practicing, for one thing, he wants to "get on" his game with wind, having had the fact so deeply impressed on him that from the trees at Sandwich will not do. He also will have to accustom himself to a different style of putting than his old Scotch variety, with which he has worked such wonders on the greens in the past.

The latest heard about Helander, scamp of Worcester, who made such a great showing in the British amateur championship last year, is that he is planning to go across again. He has returned from California.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look Years Younger! Try Grandma's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Almost everyone knows that Sage and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded streaked or gray, also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stony falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask our drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this famous old recipe because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you feel years younger.

Bath, Me., Feb. 26. The work of setting up the frames for the racing yacht Defiance was started today at the Bath Iron Works. It will require several days, and it is probable the placing of the mahogany planking will not begin much before the middle of next month.

The spars, which will arrive from East Boston about the first of April, will be finished and ready for stepping as soon as received. Designer Owen said today that the Defiance will be launched as near the middle of May as possible.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPER-INTENDENT OF GLACIER NATIONAL PARK.

That the Federal Government assumes jurisdiction of the Glacier National Park is one of the recommendations made by the superintendent of the Glacier National Park, in his annual report to Secretary Lane. Jurisdiction over the park has been called by the State of Montana but has never been accepted by the United States, although a bill providing for the acceptance of the jurisdiction has passed the Senate and is now pending in the House of Representatives. "Until such jurisdiction is accepted by Congress," says the superintendent, "and laws made governing the park reservation, serious and endless confusion and annoyance will be encountered in administering the park rules and regulations."

Extension of the eastern boundary and construction of roads are also recommended. "I must emphatically recommend an extension of the park on the eastern side," says the superintendent, "so that the boundary will be about six miles farther east. This is particularly desirable for game protection. In the vicinity of Lower Two Medicine Lake, and in the region between the lower St. Mary Lake and the Canadian boundary, deer and elk find their fall feeding ground in beautiful places where they can be ruthlessly slaughtered. The same is true regarding goat and sheep in the neighborhood of Chief Mountain."

"To prevent this loss of game to the park the eastern boundary must be extended about as above indicated so that it would take in this fall and winter feeding ground. This change of boundary recommended would include Lower Two Medicine and Lower St. Mary lakes in the park reservation."

"The upper valley of Flathead river should be opened for tourist travel by a good wagon road connecting with the Government road already completed to Fish Creek on Lake Meltonaid. With the completion of the unit mentioned, a vast area of wonderful scenic value would be made easily accessible to tourists."

"A complete general road plan should be decided upon, which should include a road across the mountains connecting the east and west sides of the park, as well as all roads in the future necessary to open up the park as far as can be foreseen. Units of this general plan might thereafter be constructed in the order of their importance as appropriations become available."

BIRDS' LOVE OF CLEAN WATER

There are few animals, if any, who do not prefer cleanliness to dirt, and the same may be said of birds. Alas how often do we see an unfortunate bird in a cage with nothing but dirty water to drink. The owner, I have no doubt, does not wish to be unkind to the pet, but simply thinks that as it has water to drink that it is enough. We have two fine big black-back gulls, who live in the garden. Not having a pond, we keep a large but both full of water for them. Whenever they have their bath, they usually take it in this bath and wash it before eating. They are very fond of washing in it, but however much they wish to, they will not get in unless the water is quite clean. One morning I went to put fresh water in (the old was scarcely dirty) and one of the birds followed me to the tap, and directly I put in a canful, it jumped and never even got out while I poured the rest of the water in, after which it had a real good wash. It evidently wanted to get in very badly, but would have nothing to do with "dirty water."—Eleanor Shiffner, in "The Animals' Friend."

INSURANCE CASE APPEALED BY LOCAL ATTORNEYS

Manchester, Feb. 26. Exceptions were taken by Attorneys E. L. Giffith and A. R. Hatch of Portsmouth, lawyers for the defense in the case of Arthur G. Tomasehal and Latine Melton against the Aetna and Mutual Fire Insurance company and the North British and Mercantile Fire Insurance company, at superior court yesterday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict of $6500, and legal interest for two years in favor of the plaintiff, and the case will go to the supreme court for a final decision. It was shortly after 3 o'clock when Judge Chamberlain ordered a recess in order that the attorneys for both the plaintiff and defense might consult in regard to certain legal points.

Upon returning to the court room the lawyers for the defense asked the Judge to rule that shops or buildings in process of construction, when totally consumed by fire, are not subject to the New Hampshire statutes, which state that an insurance company must pay total insurance upon buildings that are wholly destroyed. Judge Chamberlain ordered the jury to return a verdict in full for the plaintiff and the sum of $6500 with interest for two years was decided upon. Immediately upon learning the verdict Attorney Hatch for the defense made exceptions and the case was ordered to the supreme court for a final decision. Several attempts were made to settle the case out of court, but the jury was drawn yesterday morning and the afternoon session was opened with evidence by the plaintiff and witnesses.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin Ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia, and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes"

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you have gas and eructate, sour, indigestion, food or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50 cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs, or indigestion in five minutes. Pape's Diapiesin is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Pape's Diapiesin cranks as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia or any stomach misery. Get some now, this morning, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Plans by which the American Telephone and Telegraph Company will dispose of its $20,000,000 of Western Union Telegraph stock through Kuhn, Loeb and Co. of New York, acting as underwriters, have been approved by the Department of Justice, and according to information here, the stock will be transferred within a short time. The underwriters will dispose of the Western Union stock to parties other than the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, so that the separation of the two concerns shall meet the ideas of Attorney General McReynolds.

FIGHT ON FOR POSTMASTERSenator Hollis Credited With a Hand in Dover Appointment.

According to the Dover correspondent of the Boston Globe, the appointment of postmaster for that city has been held up by Senator Henry F. Hollis. The appointment of ex-Mayor M. J. White was recommended by Congressman Eugene E. Reed. The letter claiming the hold-up is said to be in the hands of George H. Sherry, a Democratic representative and one of Mr. Hollis' chief lieutenants in the United States Senatorial fight at the last session of the legislature, who is also a candidate for the place. The letter states that before anything further is done toward filling the office the local situation will be looked into thoroughly by Mr. Hollis.

It is generally known that in recommending ex-Mayor White for the berth, Congressman Reed fulfilled a promise of long standing. Mr. White has felt confident from the first that he would be recommended and has not hesitated to tell the other aspirants for the office that the appointment was reasonably sure to fall to him.

Ever since the successful ending for Mr. Hollis of the famous Senatorial fight, however, the friends of Mr. Sherry have stuck to it that he ought to be rewarded with the postmaster's berth. It is stated that Mr. White was for Carr and had promised to turn the Dover legislative delegation over to him. Mr. Sherry had it said for Hollis from beginning to end.
